Marsha and the Positrons play fun songs about science and how the world works with positive social messages! They always bring their positive energy to the stage with shows that are playful, entertaining and educational for kids and grown-ups too.

Kathy O'Connell, host of WXPB Kids Corner, calls Marsha a "DC rocker who takes an occasional jazzy turn" and says their record, Positronic, features "some terrific collaborations with other indie folk." A winner of a Parents' Choice Foundation Gold Award, Positronic has earned radio airplay across the U.S. from Sirius/XM and other outlets, and internationally in Australia, Canada, Switzerland and beyond. Like Marsha's earlier solo effort Gravity Vacation, the new release has won praise and songwriting awards for its clever lyrics, positive messages, and catchy sound.

The Washington Post calls Marsha and the Positrons "...among the Washington area's most creative and distinctive" children's musicians. According to the Baltimore Fishbowl, "talented/celebrated/scientifically astute yet adorably warm and amusing...Goodman-Wood has a reputation for getting kids up and dancing."

The band loves getting audiences dancing and singing along to songs that inspire curiosity about science and sending families home with smiles on their faces! Kids Can Groove music blog says Marsha "makes music for clever kids with sharp imaginations and active minds brimming with curiosity..."

We'll Eat You Up, We Love You So parenting blog says, "Goodman-Wood was no ordinary children's singer...She was very, very good. Her clear voice reminded me of Carole King...Her stage presence was lively without being grating, a highly delicate balance for a children's performer."

Marsha and the Positrons perform at concert venues, festivals, libraries, schools, museums & more! They feature Marsha Goodman-Wood (lead vocals & acoustic guitar); Ayanna Gallant (vocals, percussion & brass);

David Durst (keys); & Jon Guo (bass guitar & percussion). Expect an interactive show where audiences make fun memories experiencing the joy of live music!

 A Washington Post Going Out Guide Editor's Pick ***

"...a unique blend of science and positive social messages encompassed within toe tapping melodies and sing-along worthy lyrics" — School Library Journal

"I can attest: Parents will want to dance along with their grooving brood!"

— Baltimore Fishbowl
